I, Dennis C. Blair, do hereby state and declare as follows:

I. (t) INTRODUCTION

1. (U) I am the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) of the United States. I have held this position since January 29, 2009. In 2002, I retired as an Admiral from the United States Navy after a 34-year career, which included my service as Commander-in-Chief of the U.S. Pacific Command. During my naval career, I also served as Director of the Joint Staff and as Associate Director of Central Intelligence for Military Support, as well as in policy positions on the National Security Council staff. From 2003 to 2006, I was President and CEO of the Institute for Defense Analyses, an organization that analyzes and makes recommendations on national security policy matters.

2. (U) The purpose of this declaration is to formally assert, in my capacity as the Director of National Intelligence and head of the United States Intelligence Community, the military and state secrets privilege (hereafter "state secrets privilege") and a statutory privilege under the National Security Act, see 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1), in order to protect intelligence sources and methods that are at risk of disclosure in this case. The statements made herein are based on my personal knowledge as well as on information provided to me in my official capacity as the Director of National Intelligence.

II. (U) SUMMARY

3. (E) In the course of my official duties, I have been advised of this lawsuit and the allegations at issue in the plaintiffs' Amended Complaint. In personally considering this matter, I have executed a separate unclassified declaration dated October 30, 2009. Moreover, I have read and personally considered the information contained in the Public and In Camera, Ex Parte Declaration of Lieutenant General Keith B. Alexander, Director of the National Security

//HCS//ORCON/NOFORN/ TOP SECRET//TSP//COMINT-. I specifically concur with the NSA that public speculation about alleged NSA activities does not diminish the need to protect intelligence sources and methods from further exposure, and that official confirmation and disclosure of the classified privileged national security information described herein would cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security. For these reasons, as set forth further below, I request that the Court uphold the state secrets and statutory privilege assertions that I make herein, as well as the statutory privilege assertion made by the NSA, pursuant to Section 6 of the National Security Agency Act, see 50 U.S.C. § 402 (note), and protect the information described in this declaration from disclosure. III. (X) CLASSIFICATION OF DECLARATION 6. -(S//SL/NF) Pursuant to the standards in Executive Order No. 12958, as amended by Executive Order No. 13292, this declaration is classified as: TOP SECRET//TSP//COMINT-//HCS//ORCON/NOFORN// The details concerning these classification markings are set forth in paragraphs 8-11 of the Classified NSA Declaration and are briefly summarized here. Under Executive Order No. 12958, information is classified "TOP SECRET" if unauthorized disclosure of the information reasonably could be expected to cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States; "SECRET" if unauthorized disclosure of the information reasonably could be expected to cause serious damage to national security; and "CONFIDENTIAL" if unauthorized disclosure of the information reasonably could be expected to cause identifiable damage to national security. - (U) The United States "Intelligence Community" includes the Office of the 11. Director of National Intelligence; the Central Intelligence Agency; the National Security Agency; the Defense Intelligence Agency; the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency; the National Reconnaissance Office; other offices within the Department of Defense for the collection of specialized national intelligence through reconnaissance programs; the intelligence elements of the military services, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Department of the Treasury, the Department of Energy, the Drug Enforcement Administration, and the Coast Guard; the Bureau of Intelligence and Research of the Department of State; the elements of the Department of Homeland Security concerned with the analysis of intelligence information; and such other elements of any other department or agency as may be designated by the President, or jointly designated by the DNI and heads of the department or agency concerned, as an element of the Intelligence Community. See 50 U.S.C. § 401a(4).
- (U) The responsibilities and authorities of the Director of National Intelligence are set forth in the National Security Act of 1947, as amended. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1. These responsibilities include ensuring that national intelligence is provided to the President, the heads of the departments and agencies of the Executive Branch, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and senior military commanders, and the Senate and House of Representatives and committees thereof. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(a)(1). The DNI is also charged with establishing the objectives of, determining the requirements and priorities for, and managing and directing the tasking, collection, analysis, production, and dissemination of national intelligence by elements of the Intelligence Community. Id. § 403-1(f)(1)(A)(i) and (ii). The DNI is also responsible for developing and determining, based on proposals submitted by the heads of agencies and departments within the Intelligence Community, an annual consolidated budget for the National Intelligence Program for presentation to the President, and for ensuring the effective execution of the annual budget for intelligence and intelligence activities, and for managing and allotting appropriations for the National Intelligence Program. Id. § 403-1(c)(1)-(5).

- 13. (U) In addition, the National Security Act of 1947, as amended, provides that "[t]he Director of National Intelligence shall protect intelligence sources and methods from unauthorized disclosure." 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1). Consistent with this responsibility, the DNI establishes and implements guidelines for the Intelligence Community for the classification of information under applicable law, Executive orders, or other Presidential directives and access to and dissemination of intelligence. Id. § 403-1(i)(2)(A), (B). In particular, the DNI is responsible for the establishment of uniform standards and procedures for the granting of access to Sensitive Compartmented Information ("SCI") to any officer or employee of any agency or department of the United States, and for ensuring the consistent implementation of those standards throughout such departments and agencies. Id. § 403-1(j)(1), (2).

knowledge and information obtained in the course of my official duties, including the information contained in the Public and Classified In Camera, Ex Parte Declarations of Lieutenant General Keith B. Alexander, Director of the National Security Agency, I have determined that the disclosure of certain information—as set forth herein and described in more detail in the Classified NSA Declaration—would cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States and, therefore, must be protected from disclosure and excluded from this case. Thus, as to this information, I formally assert the state secrets privilege. In addition, it is my judgment that sensitive state secrets are so central to the subject matter of the litigation that any attempt to proceed in the case will substantially risk the disclosure of the privileged information described herein and will therefore risk exceptionally grave damage to the national security of the United States.

VI. (E) ASSERTION OF STATUTORY PRIVILEGE UNDER NATIONAL SECURITY ACT

16. (U) Through this declaration, I also hereby invoke and assert a statutory privilege held by the Director of National Intelligence under the National Security Act to protect the information described herein. See 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(l). My assertion of this statutory privilege for intelligence sources and methods is coextensive with and protects the information subject to my state secrets privilege assertion.

VII. (b) INFORMATION SUBJECT TO ASSERTIONS OF PRIVILEGE

(b) In general and unclassified terms, the following categories of information are subject to my state secrets and statutory privilege assertions:

- (U) Information that may tend to confirm or deny whether the plaintiffs have been subject to any alleged NSA intelligence activity that may be at issue in this matter; and
- В. (V) Any information concerning NSA intelligence activities, sources, or methods that may relate to or be necessary to adjudicate plaintiffs' allegations, including allegations that the NSA, with the assistance of telecommunications carriers, indiscriminately intercepts the content of communications and also, to the extent applicable to plaintiffs' claim, the communications records of millions of Americans as part of an alleged "Program" authorized by the President after 9/11. See, e.g., Amended Compl. ¶¶ 1-8, 58.

(b) The scope of this assertion includes but is not limited to:

- (i) (V) Information concerning the scope and operation of the now inoperative "Terrorist Surveillance Program" ("TSP") regarding the interception of the content of certain one-end international communications reasonably believed to involve a member or agent of al-Qaeda or an affiliated terrorist organization, and any other information related to demonstrating that the NSA does not otherwise engage in the content surveillance dragnet that the plaintiffs allege; and
- (ii) (U) Any other information concerning NSA intelligence activities, sources, or methods that would be necessary to adjudicate the plaintiffs' claims, including, to the extent applicable, information that would tend to confirm or deny whether or not the NSA obtained from telecommunications companies communication transactional records; and
- (iii) (k) Information that may tend to confirm or deny whether any telecommunications carrier has provided assistance to the NSA in connection with any alleged activity.

VIII. (%) DESCRIPTION OF INFORMATION AND HARM OF DISCLOSURE

A. (U) Information Concerning the al-Queda Terrorist Threat

18. (LL) To the extent specific information about the al-Qaeda threat is relevant to litigation of plaintiffs' allegations as to post-9/11 actions taken to meet that threat, such information could not be disclosed without revealing intelligence sources, methods, and information of the United States and thereby causing exceptionally grave damage to the national security. Therefore, I assert the state secrets and statutory privilege to protect such information from disclosure.

19. (S//OC/NF) The intelligence activities, sources, and methods that are implicated by this lawsuit, and put at risk of disclosure in further proceedings, must be viewed and understood in the context of the extremely serious threat faced by the United States. In sum, the Intelligence Community assesses that al-Qaeda remains intent on conducting terrorist attacks inside the United States. This is so notwithstanding a series of setbacks to the al-Qaeda terrorist network.

Preventing such attacks is the U.S. Intelligence Community's highest priority, and the Intelligence Community is collecting information aggressively against the al-Qaeda network to uncover indications of credible threats.²

The severity of that threat and the difficulty of tracking al-Qaeda is precisely the reason the Government is utilizing all lawful intelligence gathering capabilities. I set forth this information not only to provide the Court with crucial background as to why the intelligence activities implicated by or directly at issue in this case are being undertaken, but also to assert a claim of privilege over this threat information. Although the foregoing threat assessment demonstrates why the Government undertakes the activities described herein, the Government cannot disclose this threat information in defending the legality of the intelligence activities, sources, and methods being challenged, since to do so obviously would disclose to our adversaries what we know of their plans and how we may be obtaining information about them. Such disclosures would lead our adversaries not only to alter their plans, but also to implement greater security for their communications, thereby increasing the risk of non-detection. In addition, disclosure of threat information might reveal human sources for the United States and, thus compromise those sources and put lives in danger. Accordingly, although I believe this threat information is crucial to understanding the NSA intelligence activities, sources, and methods implicated by the plaintiffs' allegations, I must assert the states secrets privilege and the DNI's statutory privilege

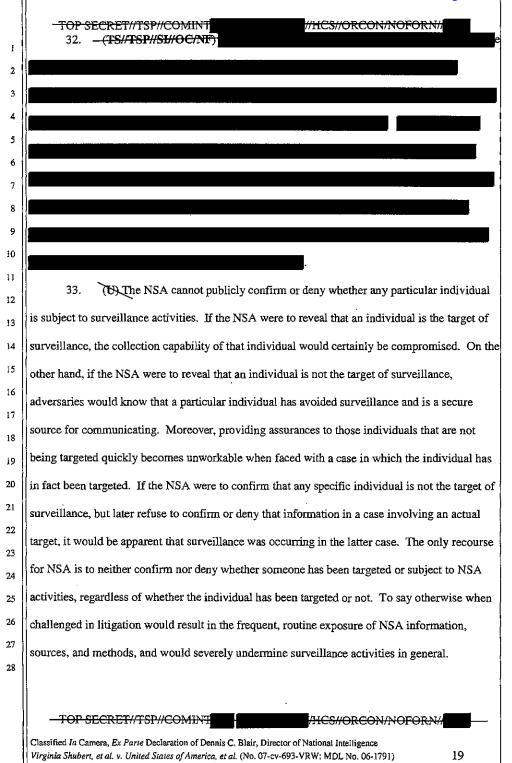

B. (b) Information That May Tend to Confirm or Deny Whether the Plaintiffs Have Been Subject to the Alleged NSA Intelligence Activities

(U) Next, I am also asserting privilege over information that would reveal whether particular individuals, including the named plaintiffs in this lawsuit, have been subject to the alleged NSA intelligence activities. Disclosure of such information would cause exceptionally grave damage to the national security.

C. (L) Information Concerning NSA Activities, Sources, or Methods

34. (W) I am also asserting privilege over any other facts concerning NSA intelligence activities, sources, or methods that may relate to or be necessary to adjudicate the plaintiffs' claims, including, but not limited to, allegations that the NSA, with the assistance of telecommunication companies, has indiscriminately intercepted the content and obtained large quantities of communications records as part of the Program authorized by the President after 9/11. See, e.g., Amended Compl. ¶ 1-4, 58. As noted above, my privilege assertion encompasses (1) facts concerning the operation of the now-defunct Terrorist Surveillance Program, including any facts needed to demonstrate that the TSP was limited to the interception of the content³ of one-end foreign communications reasonably believed to involve a member or agent of al-Qaeda or an affiliated terrorist organization, and that the NSA does not otherwise conduct a dragnet of content surveillance as the plaintiffs allege; and (2) information concerning whether or not the NSA obtains communication transactional records from telecommunications companies.

35. (U) As the NSA indicates, see Public NSA Decl. ¶ 19, the NSA's collection of the content of communications under the TSP was directed at international communications in which a participant was reasonably believed to be associated with al-Qaeda or an affiliated organization. Thus, as the Government has previously stated, plaintiffs' allegation that the NSA has indiscriminately collected the content of millions of communications sent or received by people inside the United States after 9/11 under the TSP is false. I concur with the NSA that to the extent it must demonstrate in this case that the TSP was not the content dragnet plaintiffs allege, or demonstrate that the NSA has not otherwise engaged in the alleged content dragnet,

TOP SECRET!/TSP!/COMINT--(TS//TSP//SI//OC/NF) First, I assert privilege over facts concerning the 1 operation of the Terrorist Surveillance Program and any other NSA intelligence activities needed 2 3 to demonstrate that the TSP was limited to the interception of one-end foreign communications 4 reasonably believed to involve a member or agent of al-Qaeda or an affiliated terrorist 5 organization, and that the NSA does not otherwise conduct a dragnet of content surveillance as 6 the plaintiffs allege. Such facts include those concerning (1) how targets were selected under the TSP; (2) how specific methods were used under the TSP to intercept telephone and Internet 8 9 communications and to minimize the risk of collecting non-target communications and purely 10 domestic communications; (3) the nature and identity of the targets under the TSP, 11 (4) additional classified details about the operation of the TSP that 12 would be necessary to adjudicate the plaintiffs' allegations (to the extent relevant) including facts 13 14 concerning the operational swiftness and agility of the TSP, particularly in conjunction with meta 15 data analysis, ; and the 16 effectiveness and success of the TSP; and (5) other NSA surveillance activities that may be 17 needed to address and disprove the content dragnet allegations, 18 . See Classified NSA Decl. ¶ 47. In 19 20 my judgment, revealing or risking disclosure of the foregoing NSA intelligence activities, 21 sources, and methods in order to show that NSA is not conducting the "dragnet" on the content 22 of communications that plaintiffs allege would cause exceptional harm to national security by 23 disclosing to our adversaries the ability of the United States to monitor and track their activities 24 and communications. 25 26 40. (TS//TSP//SL/OC/NF) Second, I also assert privilege over facts that would 27 disclose or describe the NSA's non-content meta data collection activities, including over 28 whether or not the plaintiffs have been subject to those activities. See Classified NSA Decl. TOP SECRET//TSP//COMINT- /HCS//ORCON/NOFORN//

(1) 49-57. In my judgment, the NSA is unable to disclose any information about the existence or operation of the NSA's bulk collection or targeted analysis of Internet or telephony meta data without causing exceptionally grave harm to national security. These are among the most important intelligence tools the NSA uses, and they have never been officially confirmed or denied by the United States. Disclosing or confirming these activities would seriously undermine an essential tool for tracking possible terrorist plots and would help foreign adversaries evade detection. Such a disclosure would also undermine ongoing intelligence operations authorized by the FISC.

41. (TS//SI//OC/NF) Third, I also assert privilege over information concerning NSA activities conducted pursuant to various FISC orders and under the authority of the FISA described by the NSA. See Classified NSA Decl. ¶¶ 57-66. In my judgment, disclosure of current surveillance activities under orders and supervision of the FISC and authority of the FISA, either directly or indirectly, would seriously compromise, if not destroy, vital ongoing intelligence operations. My privilege assertion extends to the existence of and any information concerning the (i) FISC Pen Register Order, as subsequently reauthorized, see id. ¶ 58; (ii) FISC Telephone Business Records Order, as subsequently reauthorized, see id. ¶ 59-62;

(iv) FISC Foreign Telephone and Email Order, see id.

¶ 64; and (v) NSA activities conducted pursuant to the Protect America Act and the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act Amendments Act of 2008, including directives issued to telecommunication carriers under those Acts, see id. ¶ 65-66.

42. (TS//SL/OC/NF) I concur with the NSA that the activities discussed herein and described further by the NSA—in particular the meta data collection activities—are among the most important intelligence tools available to the United States for protecting the Homeland from another catastrophic terrorist attack. I also concur that

X. (b) CONCLUSION

49. (W) In sum, I am asserting the state secrets privilege and the DNI's statutory privilege set forth in 50 U.S.C. § 403-1(i)(1) to protect the classified national security information described herein and in the Classified NSA Declaration. Moreover, because proceedings in this case risk disclosure of privileged and classified intelligence-related information, I respectfully request that the Court not only protect that information from disclosure, but to take all steps necessary, including dismissal of this action, to protect the intelligence information, sources, and methods described herein in order to prevent exceptionally grave harm to the national security of the United States.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
