(U) Section 2.4 of Executive Order (E.O.) 12863,
dated 09/13/1993, mandates that Inspectors General and General Counsel of the Intelligence Community components (in the FBI, the Assistant Director, INSD, and the General Counsel, OGC, respectively) report to the IOB all information "concerning intelligence activities that they have reason to believe may be unlawful or contrary to Executive order or Presidential directive." This language was adopted verbatim from E.O. 12334, dated 12/04/1981, when the IOB was known as the President's Intelligence Oversight Board.

(U) By longstanding agreement between the FBI and the IOB (and its predecessor, the PIOB), this language has been interpreted to mandate the reporting of any violation of a provision of the Attorney General's foreign counterintelligence guidelines or other guidelines or regulations approved by the Attorney General in accordance with E.O. 12333, if such provision was designed in full or in part to ensure the protection of the individual rights of a U.S. person. Violations of provisions

(U) ~~(S)~~ In this case, this matter must be reported to the IOB because FBI [REDACTED] requested information on a number that had no relevance to an ongoing investigation as required by statute. This error was compounded by the fact that the results from this NSL were documented in an EC and subsequently entered into the FBI's Telephone Applications database.

Finally, no open source or internet checks were conducted on the information.

~~(U)~~ ~~(S)~~ A copy of the original NSL and the information received are being maintained by the Chief Division Counsel in his safe.

(U) Section 2.4 of Executive Order (EO) 12863, dated 09/13/1993, mandates that Inspectors General and General Counsel of the Intelligence Community components (in the FBI, the Assistant Director, INSD, and the General Counsel, OGC, respectively) report to the IOB intelligence activities that they have reason to believe may be unlawful or contrary to Executive order or Presidential directive. This language was adopted verbatim from EO 12334, dated 12/04/1981, when the IOB was known as the President's Intelligence Oversight Board (PIOB).

(U) By longstanding agreement between the FBI and the IOB (and its predecessor, the PIOB), this language has been interpreted to mandate the reporting of any violation of a provision of The Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI National Security Investigations and Foreign Intelligence Collection (NSIG), or other guidelines or regulations approved by the Attorney General in accordance with EO 12333, dated 12/04/1981, if such provision was designed in full or in part to ensure the protection of the individual rights of U.S. persons. Violations of provisions that are essentially administrative in nature need not be reported to the IOB. The FBI is required, however, to maintain records of such administrative violations so that the Counsel to the IOB may review them upon request.

~~(U)~~ ~~(S)~~ NSLs are administrative subpoenas that allow the FBI to obtain three types of information: (1) telephone and email communication records from telephone companies and internet service providers (Electronic Communications Privacy Act (ECPA)) (18 U.S.C. § 2709); (2) financial institution records (Right to Financial Privacy Act) (12 U.S.C. § 3414(a)(5)(A)); and (3) credit bureau information (Fair Credit Reporting Act) (15 U.S.C. § 1681u (a), (b)). ECPA, 18 U.S.C. § 2709, provides that the FBI may seek toll billing information from telephone carriers that is relevant to an authorized national security investigation. Section V.12., Investigative Techniques, of the NSIG provides that NSLs may be issued in conformity with statutory requirements, including 18 U.S.C. § 2709.

~~(U)~~ ~~(S)~~ In this situation, the information obtained by the FBI was not relevant to an authorized national security investigation. Due to the incorrect number stated in the NSL, the FBI received telephone toll billing records pertaining to a telephone number that was neither under investigation nor related to an investigation.

Therefore, the information was improperly collected, although unintentionally so, in violation of the NSIG and ECPA.

(U) ~~(S)~~ It should be noted that [redacted] response in receiving the erroneous information was commendable. Upon receiving the incorrect toll records, the case agent immediately noticed the discrepancy, notified his supervisor, and placed the original CD in a CD box. Proper procedures were then undertaken by sealing the CD box and submitting the box to the Chief Division Counsel's custody. No personal or identifying information on the incorrect telephone number was uploaded into ACS from the NSL return. Further, no ACS checks, IDW, [redacted] or other restricted government data base checks were performed on any information from the NSL return. Finally, no open source or internet checks were conducted on the information.

(U) Here, the target's rights were not violated because he was not the subject of the improperly collected information. It is unknown whether the erroneous information received pertained to a United States Person, inasmuch as there has been no review of the information. Nonetheless, based upon the fact that information which may be about a USP was improperly, although inadvertently, collected, and in accordance with the reporting requirements of Section 2.4 of Executive Order 12863, OGC will prepare a cover letter and a memorandum to report this matter to the IOB.

On February 2, 2006, an FBI case agent forwarded an email to an FBI investigative support specialist (ISS) asking the ISS to create National Security Letters (NSL) for two telephone numbers that were associated with the subject of the investigation. On February 13, 2006, the ISS created NSLs for the two telephone numbers. Due to an inadvertent error, however, one of the telephone numbers was erroneously transcribed. The NSL with the erroneous telephone number was

The error was discovered upon receipt of the information, and the records were neither reviewed nor used for any investigative purpose. Despite the inadvertent nature of the mistake, the fact remains that information was improperly collected on a telephone number unrelated to an investigation. The overcollection was a violation of Section V.12. of The Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI National Security Investigations and Foreign Intelligence Collection.¹ Thus, the matter is being reported to the IOB.

(U) Section 2.4 of Executive Order (EO) 12863, dated 09/13/1993, mandates that Inspectors General and General Counsel of the Intelligence Community components (in the FBI, the Assistant Director, INSD, and the General Counsel, OGC, respectively) report to the IOB intelligence activities that they have reason to believe may be unlawful or contrary to Executive Order or Presidential Directive. This language was adopted verbatim from EO 12334, dated 12/04/1981, when the IOB was known as the President's Intelligence Oversight Board (PIOB).

Security Investigations and Foreign Intelligence Collection (AG Guidelines), or other guidelines or regulations approved by the Attorney General in accordance with EO 12333, dated 12/04/1981, if such provision was designed in full or in part to ensure the protection of the individual rights of U.S. persons. Violations of provisions that are essentially administrative in nature need not be reported to the IOB. The FBI is required, however, to maintain records of such administrative violations so that the Counsel to the IOB may review them upon request.

(U) ~~(S)~~ NSLs are administrative subpoenas that allow the FBI to obtain three types of information: (1) telephone and email communication records from telephone companies and internet service providers (Electronic Communications Privacy Act (ECPA)) (18 U.S.C. § 2709); (2) financial institution records (Right to Financial Privacy Act) (12 U.S.C. § 3414(a)(5)(A)); and (3) credit bureau information (Fair Credit Reporting Act) (15 U.S.C. § 1681u (a), (b)). ECPA, 18 U.S.C. § 2709, provides that the FBI may seek toll billing information from telephone carriers that is relevant to an authorized national security investigation. Section V.12., Investigative Techniques, of the AG Guidelines provides that NSLs may be issued in conformity with statutory requirements, including 18 U.S.C. § 2709.

(U) ~~(S)~~ Here, during an authorized investigation,¹ the FBI properly served an NSL on a telephone carrier. In response to the properly served NSL, the FBI obtained information regarding prior subscribers' records that were not relevant to the investigation.² It appears that this information, although lawfully obtained, is not relevant to the investigation and should be segregated to protect the potential privacy interests of United States persons. As already accomplished in this matter, once information not relevant to an authorized investigation is received, the field shall seal and sequester such information.

(S) [REDACTED]

~~(U)~~ ~~(S)~~ As required by Executive Order (E.O.) 12863 (Sept. 13, 1993) and Section 2-56 of the National Foreign Intelligence Program Manual (NFIPM), OGC was tasked to determine whether the surveillance errors described here are matters that should be reported to the IOB. We believe that the reported activity does not require IOB notification.

(U) Section 2.4 of E.O. 12863 mandates that the heads of Intelligence Community components report all information to the IOB that it deems necessary to carry out its responsibilities. That section requires Inspectors General and General Counsel of the Intelligence Community to report "intelligence activities that they have reason to believe may be unlawful or contrary to Executive order or Presidential directive." This language has been interpreted to mandate the reporting of any violation of guidelines or regulations approved by the Attorney General, in accordance with E.O. 12333, if such provision was designed in full or in part to protect the individual rights of a United States person. This includes violations of agency procedures issued under E.O. 12333, unless they involve purely administrative matters.¹ For the FBI, the Office of the General Counsel (OGC) submits reports to the IOB.²

NSIG

(Introduction) at 4. Section 2-56 of the NFIPM identifies as reportable to the IOB unauthorized investigations, the use of unlawful methods and techniques, exceeding the authorized scope of permitted activities, and failing to adhere to minimization requirements.³

The Inspection Division is required to maintain for three years records of administrative violations, for possible review by the Counsel to the IOB, together with a copy of the opinion concerning the basis for the determination that IOB notification was not required. (U) Section 2.4 of Executive Order (EO) 12863, dated 09/13/1993, mandates that Inspectors General and General Counsel of the Intelligence Community components (in the FBI, the Assistant Director, INSD, and the General Counsel, OGC, respectively) report to the IOB intelligence activities that they have reason to believe may be unlawful or contrary to Executive order or Presidential directive. This language was adopted verbatim from EO 12334, dated 12/04/1981, when the IOB was known as the President's Intelligence Oversight Board (PIOB).

(U) By longstanding agreement between the FBI and the IOB (and its predecessor, the PIOB), this language has been interpreted to mandate the reporting of any violation of a provision of The Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI National Security Investigations and Foreign Intelligence Collection (NSIG), or other guidelines or regulations approved by the Attorney General in accordance with EO 12333, dated 12/04/1981, if such provision was designed in full or in part to ensure the protection of the individual rights of U.S. persons. Violations of provisions that are essentially administrative in nature need not be reported to the IOB. The FBI is required, however, to maintain records of such administrative violations so that the Counsel to the IOB may review them upon request.

(U) ~~(S)~~ NSLs are administrative subpoenas that allow the FBI to obtain three types of information: (1) telephone and email communication records from telephone companies and internet service providers (Electronic Communications Privacy Act (ECPA)) (18 U.S.C. § 2709); (2) financial institution records (Right to Financial Privacy Act) (12 U.S.C. § 3414(a)(5)(A)); and (3) credit bureau information

² (U) In order to avoid any further dissemination of this incorrect telephone number, the number is not being listed in this document.

(U) ³ ~~(S)~~ On 03/27/2006, [redacted] realized that this incident constituted an IOB violation and promptly reported the matter to OGC, the Inspection Division, and the Counterintelligence Division.

(Fair Credit Reporting Act) (15 U.S.C. § 1681u (a), (b)). ECPA, 18 U.S.C. § 2709, provides that the FBI may seek toll billing information from telephone carriers that is relevant to an authorized national security investigation. Section V.12., Investigative Techniques, of the NSIG provides that NSLs may be issued in conformity with statutory requirements, including 18 U.S.C. § 2709.

(U) ~~(S)~~ In this situation, due to the incorrect number stated in the NSL, the FBI received telephone toll billing records pertaining to a telephone number that was neither under investigation nor related to an investigation. Therefore, the information was improperly collected, although unintentionally so, in violation of the NSIG and ECPA.

(U) Here, the target's rights were not violated because he was not the subject of the improperly collected information. It is unknown whether the erroneous information received pertained to a United States Person, inasmuch as there has been no review of the information. Nonetheless, based upon the fact that information which may be about a USP was improperly, although inadvertently, collected, and in accordance with the reporting requirements of Section 2.4 of Executive Order 12863, OGC will prepare a cover letter and a memorandum to report this matter to the IOB.

IOB MATTER 2006 [redacted] (U)

(S)

(S) By electronic communication dated March 29, 2006, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) [redacted] Field Office reported that, on November 23, 2004, the FBI submitted a National Security Letter (NSL) seeking telephone toll billing records of [redacted]. Due to a typographical error, the telephone number on the NSL was erroneously transcribed. On February 4, 2005, the telephone records were opened and it was determined that they were not the target's records. The telephone records were destroyed without further review.

b1

(U) ~~(S)~~ Due to the incorrect number stated in the NSL, the FBI received telephone toll billing records pertaining to a telephone number that was neither under investigation nor related to an investigation. The error was discovered upon receipt of the information, and the records were neither reviewed nor used for any investigative purpose. Despite the inadvertent nature of the mistake, the fact remains that information was improperly collected on a telephone number unrelated to an investigation. The overcollection was a violation of Section V.12. of The Attorney General's Guidelines for FBI National Security Investigations and Foreign Intelligence Collection.¹ Thus, the matter is being reported to the IOB.
