SEATTLE, WA -- FBI agents trying to track the source of e-mailed bomb threats against a Washington high school last month sent the suspect a secret surveillance program designed to surreptitiously monitor him and report back to a government server, according to an FBI affidavit obtained by Wired News.

The court filing offers the first public glimpse into the bureau's long-suspected spyware capability, in which the FBI adopts techniques more common to online criminals. The software was sent to the owner of an anonymous MySpace profile linked to bomb threats against Timberline High School near Seattle. The code led the FBI to 15-year-old Josh Glazebrook, a student at the school, who on Monday pleaded guilty to making bomb threats, identity theft and felony harassment. In an affidavit seeking a search warrant to use the software, filed last month in U.S. District Court in the Western District of Washington, FBI agent Norman Sanders describes the software as a "computer and internet protocol address verifier," or CIPAV.

Bomb threat at high school downplayed by local police department.

The Associated Press

LACEY Wash. — Technology savvy student holds Timberline High School hostage. The suspect is still unknown after several bomb threats and 5 days of school evacuations. Anonymous bomb threats to high schools are a growing trend in rural America.

Timberline High School is the latest victim in an increasing trend of computer related extortion schemes. These schemes all involve a similar pattern: several threats made over a week by students utilizing technology. These threats receive low media attention. School officials and law enforcement downplay the risk associated with the threats and disregard pleas from concerned parents and students.

Although similar incidents have occurred in Kentucky, Michigan, and Virginia, the Timberline threat shows an escalation in sophistication and computer hacking skills.

[Statistics to come on each threat. Including: duration of threat, cost estimate for damage, and psychological factors]

The most significant difference with the Timberline threat is the use of My Space and obfuscated emails. According to sources at Timberline High School, the subject uses other students' emails to send the bomb threats, most often going by the name of "Doug." Additionally, the suspect has set up a My Space page to taunt students. According to "Doug", # students have joined the My Space page. A frenzy of students are trying to identify "Doug", yet none have succeeded.

In response to the students' race to identify the suspect, "Doug" comments

[Place comment here]

School officials have given parents and students little assurance of the threats ending soon. Timberline Principal Dave Lehnis stated, "While the administration and law enforcement believe the school is safe and secure, we understand if parents want to keep their students at home and we will work with them to get the homework they need."

The emotional toll on the students can be seen by the significant absentee numbers. If school officials and law enforcement are not taking this threat seriously, the parents are.

The AUSA gave us the thumbs up on the affidavit this afternoon, and the judge just signed off on the SW a few minutes ago. Since CT Watch, following the release of the IIR, was calling me last night for new info, I'm updating them to avoid one of those unpleasant 3:00am MST phone calls. ERF advised that they have everything ready pending receipt of the SW. We plan to meet with the source tomorrow and have him transmit the CIPAV.

I will be faxing a copy of the SW to your number at [redacted] Our question: Is there any reason that we can't

As we discussed this morning, El Paso is interested in utilizing the CIPAV technique for a 279B matter. I've attached the search warrant application and affidavit, as well as the opening EC for background information. The EPD CDC and AUSA assigned to the investigation have both approved the affidavit. Please advise if there are any technical changes necessary. I've also asked our tech agents to initiate the formal request through RMS.

However, any rewording may or may not be accepted by the FISC as OGC has advised. Or the presentation of acceptable rewording would take months such as our experience with PG's case that is still unresolved.

(U) Gentlemen, I'm sorry it took me a few days to get spun up on all this, but I have a sufficient grasp now to lay out what OTD can do in the subject matter. Of course, we want to support this effort any way we can within lawful parameters. At the risk of regurgitating that which is already known, let me lay it out from the basics (and please correct me where I stray):

(U/LES) These are my thoughts on how we can get this job done. I'm sure I didn't get every detail right, so please don't hesitate to challenge something I've said here. For CEAU's part we need only 24-48 hours to prepare deployment. Also, I'll be out of the office next week. Please contact SSA [redacted] in my absence.

This case is the one that we met on in McClean. Any thoughts? OGC needs to respond to ITD to keep this ball rolling. While STLU has some conflicting ideas about how to handle this proposal, nothing will be resolved until you and NSLB provide your input.

Bomb threat at high school downplayed by local police department.

The Associated Press

LACEY Wash. — Technology savvy student holds Timberline High School hostage. The suspect is still unknown after several bomb threats and 5 days of school evacuations. Anonymous bomb threats to high schools are a growing trend in rural America.

Timberline High School is the latest victim in an increasing trend of computer related extortion schemes. These schemes all involve a similar pattern: several threats made over a week by students utilizing technology. These threats receive low media attention. School officials and law enforcement downplay the risk associated with the threats and disregard pleas from concerned parents and students.

Although similar incidents have occurred in Kentucky, Michigan, and Virginia, the Timberline threat shows an escalation in sophistication and computer hacking skills.

[Statistics to come on each threat. Including: duration of threat, cost estimate for damage, and psychological factors]

The most significant difference with the Timberline threat is the use of My Space and obfuscated emails. According to sources at Timberline High School, the subject uses other students' emails to send the bomb threats, most often going by the name of "Doug." Additionally, the suspect has set up a My Space page to taunt students. According to "Doug", # students have joined the My Space page. A frenzy of students are trying to identify "Doug", yet none have succeeded.

In response to the students' race to identify the suspect, "Doug" comments

[Place comment here]

School officials have given parents and students little assurance of the threats ending soon. Timberline Principal Dave Lehnis stated, "While the administration and law enforcement believe the school is safe and secure, we understand if parents want to keep their students at home and we will work with them to get the homework they need."

The emotional toll on the students can be seen by the significant absentee numbers. If school officials and law enforcement are not taking this threat seriously, the parents are.

I know that some of our requests are already in the process of being completed. However, I just wanted to document the telephone conversation that my engineers and I had with [redacted] in this email. Thus, per our telephone call, the attached word document contains the requested information that we discussed.

[redacted] thanks yet again for the good insight and info. I'm not sure point 2 is a show stopper; you're right - this case was originally pretty much straight criminal [redacted]

[redacted] That makes our criminal case a hip-pocket disruption plan.

We'll get to work on this end and keep you guys in the loop as we go. Would you prefer we deal with someone else in your unit for the day-to-day aspect of this case?

Talk to you soon

[redacted] Thanks for the inquiry. As [redacted] has moved on, I am covering his area of interaction. Your case may be a good case for the CIPAV tool, as described below. Please get with your TTA and discuss this, and we will be glad to assist. It appears that you may have consent from the owner of the account?

Here is the information on the CIPAV:

Have your TTA get in touch with us and we will proceed from here. Glad to help you!

Thanks,

However, any rewording may or may not be accepted by the FISC as OGC has advised. Or the presentation of acceptable rewording would take months such as our experience with PG's case that is still unresolved.

[Redacted] Thanks for the inquiry. As [Redacted] has moved on, I am covering his area of interaction. Your case may be a good case for the CIPAV tool, as described below. Please get with your TTA and discuss this, and we will be glad to assist. It appears that you may have consent from the owner of the account?

Here is the information on the CIPAV:

(U) Gentlemen, I'm sorry it took me a few days to get spun up on all this, but I have a sufficient grasp now to lay out what OTD can do in the subject matter. Of course, we want to support this effort any way we can within lawful parameters. At the risk of regurgitating that which is already known, let me lay it out from the basics (and please correct me where I stray):

(U/LES) These are my thoughts on how we can get this job done. I'm sure I didn't get every detail right, so please don't hesitate to challenge something I've said here. For CEAU's part, we need only 24 -48 hours to prepare deployment. Also, I'll be out of the office next week. Please contact SSA [redacted] in my absence.
